Update on the Status of the Campuses

January 19, 2023

Dear Pacifica Community,

I am writing to provide updates on the heavy rainstorms that affected our Golden State last week. Our hearts are with all the people in our community and the state who experienced losses due to the storm.

With that said, we are pleased to confirm that both campuses are fully operational and that this weekend's residential sessions are being held on campus as scheduled.

We are grateful for the dedication and professionalism shown by the teams across Pacifica who allowed our campuses to weather the storm, while maintaining the highest-quality education. Your efficient and collaborative work under difficult circumstances resulted in the safety and well-being of our students, faculty, staff, vendors, and campus grounds.

While a drier period of weather is expected in the upcoming days, clean-up from the storm remains on certain roads. We will continue to monitor the weather and communicate with you should severe weather threaten our area in the weeks ahead. We are certainly appreciative of any precipitation that aids in putting a dent in our drought status. Still, the effects it can have on ground, road, and travel conditions is something we certainly are staying mindful of, and we have necessary preparation measures in place to help manage the safety of our community.

Also, as an additional safety-related note, just a friendly reminder that the same COVID-19 protocols from the fall quarter are still in effect this winter on campus. Please remember to bring a photo of a negative COVID-19 test that was taken within 24 hours of coming to campus, and note that masks are required in shuttles and in the classroom.

Thank you all for your ongoing resilience and contributions to making the Pacifica community such a safe and wonderful community to work, learn, and connect. I wish you every success this quarter.

Warmly,

Dr. Lee
